Re: POD: S00-3275 and S00-3276

Dear Bill,

Thank you for walking me through the documentation today on the website. I would never have found the right forms without your assistance.

I hope I have filled in the form adequately. As mentioned, we bought the property in 1999 and John Souza died several years after that. Unfortunately no one informed us we must change names with the water board. Sorry about that.

One other thing to note is that when Souza sold his ranch he subdivided it into three parcels, so there might be some confusion with the APN numbers. I am not sure if he had just one number back when he filed for water rights or three. We bought the larger 630-acre piece (total was 850 originally) and ours is the only dwelling and agri operation that was pumping from the creek. The other parcels have springs.

The arrow on the Erims map designates our house site and the spot that we have continued to pump water from the creek for both domestic and agricultural purposes. However, it looks like the arrow might point to the wrong side of the creek. There is no house and no pumping taking place on the south side of the creek.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions. 650-367-8556.

Warmest regards and a happy holiday.

Amanda Jones

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include:

- "Statements of Water Diversion and Use"
- "Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California"
- "Water Rights for Stockponds Constructed Prior to 1969"
- "Appropriation of Water in California"
